Dear host family,

I am writing this to you to discuss about me and I couldn't be more excited. My name is Chloe and I am 15 years old as of writing this letter. I have wanted to go on exchange since 8th grade because of the pure experience. I haven't been outside of Australia so this would be a great first-time overseas trip. Exchange is a unique experience because unlike travelling normally- even for a long period of time- you are involved with the community and learn what the school life is first-hand.

I am a well-mannered and adaptable/flexible person and push for what I believe is right. I am a loyal friend and love to learn about new things and expand my knowledge on topics I already know to better build my understanding (this perfectly aligns with student exchange). I believe I could change my host familys life just as they will change mine and make a positive impact in the end. While I am not perfect I doubt anyone would expect that of me and would accept and issues I may have and help problem solve when issues arise. I hope to learn anything and everything I can while on exchange, and will take any oppertunity I can to see more of Sweden, even if it means doing tasks I may typically find unamusing because in a different country, a lot can change with even the simplest of things.

My home life is pretty average having a mum and two sister as well as my mothers partner who does not live with us but is still part of the family. I also have three guinea pigs all of which were adopted from a shelter and I love them so very much. In school I have always liked English as a subject but have recently become more fond of Mathematics. I am in an exellerated program in my school which really pushes me to do my best and I have learnt to communicate to my teachers as communication is vital- especially if issues pop up. I also play the violin, having played since year 8 and am only looking to further improve.

Some areas I am interested in are offered in my school, but I have unfortunatley never been able to take the classes due to low numbers. One of these classes is digital tech which in year 10 focuses on game scripting and coding. While I have picked up on some coding and am still practicing what got me into developing games was the designing portion. Some other things I like is writing, drawing, journaling, reading, watching movies and playing games. Some things I want to try specifically in Sweden probably is snow sports/activities as that is something I have never experienced and I am open and looking forward to any other activities that come up!
Sincerely, Chloe.
