Dear Host Family, Hej, nöje. Jag är Jordy. Those were the first words I learnt when I realized that what I desired the most was not only to be an Exchange Student but to become one in Sweden, a country very different from the one I live in and maybe it's that which fascinates me the most. I'm Jordy, I'm a sociable, active and curious guy, I'm currently 16. I live with my family in Italy, in a city near the border with another country. In my family there are my parents, who both work, my little brother, my cat Salem and I. We're very close, we always help each other, we often go for a walk or to visit places that offer interesting events like fair, exhibitions or concerts.

In my daily life, the most part of my days are organized in relation to the school I'm attending, in which from Monday to Friday I listen to the lessons from 8am to 4pm and then I study and do my homework. The high school I'm attending at the moment is a lyceum that focuses on the learning of foreign languages, in fact I study English, French and Russian but I've also done a Portuguese course. Currently, I practice trying to learn Swedish, albeit I'm only at the start and it's very hard, on the other hand I speak and understand English almost as Italian, I'm kind of good in French and a little bit good in Russian.

When I'm free from school, especially in the weekend, I go to the gym and do sport, in the years I've done a lot of different sports, normally team ones. I like to hang out with my friends and some of them are also my classmates. With them we often go for a walk or we meet to play at the beach or we go to the cinema. About hobbies sometimes I dabble in finding new recipes and then making them with the help of my mom. Out of the school context I've studied music for some years, since I was 8 till I was 14, I played the guitar and it was beautiful and exciting although I later stopped. Sometimes I think it would be good to restart despite I still couldn't do it, especially because I was very good.

Regarding the academic plan for now, I'm aiming at studying foreign languages. I don't know yet if the university I will attend will be in Italy or France, since the school I'm attending at the moment will give me the chance to do a double exam, the one for the Italian graduation and the French one (ESABAC), or maybe in another European country. I think that I could be a very good Exchange Student because as I'll get to know about your culture and spread it later when I come back to my country, I'd like you to know about mine also so that we can both have a cultural enrichment. I'll arrive in Sweden happy to dive in the culture, giving maximum availability to integrate globally both with you and with the school that has a school system very different from the Italian one and I'll do my best to learn Swedish, all with extremely gratitude from me towards you dear Host Family, eager to live and know the opportunities that I'll be offered.

Jag tackar dig djupt för den möjlighet du erbjuder mig. Thank you!

Your future exchange student,

Jordy
