Dear host family,

Hej, my name is Eva and I am from Switzerland (however I also have a few roots in Germany), I am currently still 15 years old but I am soon turning 16. In my opinion I find it quite challenging to describe myself and show my life in just one letter, however I'll try to do my best and hope that this letter gives you a good expression of who I am and hopefully leads to you choosing me as your exchange student. An exchange year has always been a big dream of mine, I actually don't even know when I decided that I want to do one, but already during elementary school I knew, that I want to see the world and want to experience living in a new country and learn everything about it.

"But why in Sweden?" Well I got asked that question quite often but for me it has never been a question, I always just knew that I would want to go to Sweden. And I believe it is because: when I was very young my mother introduced me to Astrid Lindgren and all her stories. Especially "Alla vi barn i Bullerbyn" or how it's called in Switzerland: "Wir Kinder aus Bullerbü" was my favourite story. I didn't just love hearing the stories, but also loved watching the film and that's why I already fell in love with the Swedish country with a very young age. Therefore I've always been a huge fan of Sweden, but when my family and I visited Sweden about two years ago, I knew: I have to do an exchange year here.

I grew up in a small village and there I live together with my older brother and my parents in a small cozy terraced house. Though my brother and I always tried to convince our parents to get a pet we sadly don't have any. However, in my opinion we are a very close family and like to do lots of things together for example: hiking, cooking, small trips to a new place (or a old place we like to come back to), running (that I honestly only really do together with my dad), visiting museums or art galleries, watch films and TV shows or play a board game. However most of the time we only have time for watching television or cooking together because we all have quite busy lives. But no matter how busy our lives get we always work together. And though my brother and I also fight sometimes, I'd say we have a great relationship.

The reasons why I love scouting is I love being around people, meeting new people and especially with the scouts that can be really fun and special, I as well love being in the nature and go on adventures, especially the camps where we sleep in tents are one of my highlights about scouting.

Describing myself is quiet hard however if I had to describe myself I would say I am: loving, empathic, kind, interested, ambitious, lively, open-minded and open-hearted, honest, creative, active, caring, thoughtful and friendly person.

Thank you for reading my letter. I really hope that this letter gave you a good expression of who I am and hopefully you now want to get to know me in person, if so I already look forward to meeting you.

Best regards,

Eva
