Kära värdfamilj, Dear host family,

Jag heter Cassandre, är 17 år och kommer från Belgien. Jag talar inte svenska men skulle gärna lära mig ert språk. I live in Brussels and I am a French speaking Belgian. Hej dear Host Family!

I am in my last year in school, and I will then graduate at the end of this year. My main subjects in school are science and mathematics. I like these two subjects but I am open to discovering new things in another field. I am in a school using active teaching methods. Which means that the lessons are constructed with the students and around them. This allowed me to acquire skills such as creativity, autonomy and a critical mind. To explain to you how I became me. I must begin by telling you about my family. My family for me is a very important thing. In my family I can count my brother, and my two parents Véronique and Frédéric but also my grandparents, my uncles and aunts as well as my cousins. People from my family are the first people who supported me, loved me, educated and taught me. It is also the first ones that I loved but also my first examples. I consider myself close to my family in the sense that I enjoy spending time with them, sharing activities and going on holiday with them. I have also had the opportunity to travel with them several times to different countries. Thanks to my grandfather on my mother's side. I think I own my passion for travelling and discovering from him. But I think this is also from the fact that my parents allow me to go on other countries such as Italy and Canada. But also, we enjoy holidays in the mountains every winter to ski and often in the summer to go hiking. Two sports that I like. In everyday life, I am fortunate to be able to participate in numerous extracurricular activities. I have been playing guitar for about ten years, in an academy of music and I am therefore in my last year. I have been also swimming for about ten years now. I like swimming, because I like the feeling of freedom and to be alone (by myself) that it gives me. In my everyday life, I am very sociable and not afraid to talk to others, approach others or meet new people. But sometimes I need to be alone with myself, to focus on myself and my thoughts. I have been playing tennis also for about two years, a sport that I like for the challenges and the sensations it brings me. But I think the most important activity for me, as well as the one that built and shaped me is Scouting. I have been a scout since I was six years. I roughly go their one every two Sundays. It is often said that scouting is the school of life. But for me scouting was more than that. This has been my place of personal development, but also the place I could be myself. With the help of scouting, I had the opportunity to go on a humanitarian trip to Morocco, where I was able to live in a small village in the mountains and discover the culture and the local life. That's what I love about travelling. Discover a country through the people. That is what I would like to do with you. Discover your culture, your landscape and your country through your eyes. As well as my activities, I also like board games, and as card games. I often do it with my grandparents or my cousins. I like the drawing also very much, because with this I can work on my creativity in complete freedom. Besides that I also like chocolate. This is in our Belgian heritage. I am anxious to discover the Swedish specialties, dishes, typical food and if you want, I would be happy to share with you, our specialties. If I had to describe myself, I would probably say that I am a social, creative and happy person. But if I want to be more transparent, I should describe myself like this...

Thank you for taking the time to read my letter. I hope you enjoy reading it.

I hope to hear from you soon.

Jag önskar er en trevlig dag!

Cassandre
