Dear host family,

I would like to study abroad because i want to leave my comfort zone. It's important for me to understand if I can live without using my mother tongue.

I chose Sweden because I dream to see the northern lights. I also heard that the school system there is one of the best in the world.

one of my key life experience was when I understood how rewarding apologizing can be.

When I was 13 years old there was a kid that always teasing me and I did the same to him.

i didn't know that he was having family problems and that was the reason why he was always angry with me. When I found that out apologized and we became friends. This taught me that apologizing is better than ignoring other people's feelings.

I am extrovert, kind, funny, with a good sense of humor. I can also be sensitive sometimes, empathetic and impulsive. At the end of the school year I hope I will be able to speak Swedish. I hope this experience of living abroad will give me the strength to face and cope with difficult situation in which I will need to be independent.

As I am studying at a cooking school I hope that my host family will ask me to cook Italian food for them.

I hope I will be able to see the northern lights.

Kind regards,

Luca
