Dear future family,

my name is Giorgia, but you can call me Gio, I prefer it. I am sixteen years old and I come from the south of Italy. With this letter I would like to tell you something about myself, so that you can get to know me a little better as a person.

First of all, I would like to explain why I decided to take part in this experience and, especially, why I chose Sweden. Visiting Sweden has been my biggest dream for about four years now. Everything started when I began watching Swedish movies and TV series and listening to Swedish music – like Omar Rudberg's! From that moment on, I started seeing Sweden with different eyes, full of wonder, and I even began dreaming of moving there one day. I even started learning Swedish on duolingo! So when I got the opportunity to study abroad, I didn't have to think twice about which country I wanted to live in for a semester. I can't wait to visit Sweden and discover everything this country has to offer!

In my city I sometimes feel a bit trapped. Maybe it's because I don't really like the mentality of some people here, or maybe it's just because I really want to explore new places and see new things. Of course, I have amazing friends here, especially my best friend. I honestly don't know what I would do without her, and the idea of leaving her for so long scares me a lot. We are so close that people even ask us if we are twins! We can talk about everything, and we share many interests, especially our love for movies. We go to the cinema together every Saturday and we love discussing the meanings and emotions behind the films we watch.

I will miss my family too, especially my mother and my younger sister, with whom I have a very close relationship. My mom is wonderful and very funny – you never get bored with her. My sister, instead, is the opposite of me: while I enjoy staying at home reading a book or watching a movie, she loves going out with her friends and coming back late. Despite our differences, I love her very much.

As you may have understood, I am a very simple person. I prefer a quiet night watching a movie or reading a book to going to parties. I might seem a bit boring, and maybe I really am, but I don't mind it at all. I spend most of my days (and nights) studying because I attend a classical high school, which is very demanding. However, I love learning new things, so I try my best to handle the hard work. I especially love humanities, such as literature – I study Italian, English, Greek and Latin literature – and I also really enjoy history and philosophy. Philosophy fascinates me because I love understanding how human thoughts and ideas have evolved over time.

I don't know yet what I want to do in the future, but I promised myself that after this experience I will try to understand what I truly want to become. I hope that my time in Sweden will help me find some answers.

In my free time – which I don't have much of – besides reading and watching movies, I enjoy creative activities like painting rocks, making jewelry, or decorating picture frames. These activities help me relax and express my creativity.

I am very excited about this journey and I can't wait to live many new experiences with you. It will be a completely different reality from the one I am used to, but I think I will really enjoy it. I can't wait to see the snow – in my city it's always quite warm, even in winter! I'm not someone who usually tries new food, but I promised myself that I will try everything at least once. I hope to learn many new things from this experience and from you as well. I don't know you yet, but I really hope we will get along well and share many beautiful moments together that I will never forget.

Thank you very much for reading my letter. I hope I didn't bore you too much!

With love,

Gio.
